

RUSS LIQUID

On Friday, December 20, the Community Center for the Performing Arts and University of Oregon Campus Radio 88.1 FM KWVA proudly welcome Russ Liquid's Heliotrope Tour to the WOW Hall.

Redefining the possibilities of modern music, Russ Liquid (aka Russell Scott) fuses the raw vitality of classic funk and the inventive sound design of electronic production, bringing a much-needed injection of melody and emotion to the thriving dance floor community.

A kinetic energy infuses Russ' music, giving way to a mixture of funk/jazz/electro, evoking a kaleidoscope of textures, senses and moods. Yet it is improv-driven at its heart. Classically trained on the piano, trumpet, saxophone and flute, Russell spent his early 20's touring the Caribbean and South America as part of a jazz quintet, playing resorts, cruise ships and dance clubs. He toured with psychedelic ska band Upright Dub Orchestra, and his one-of-a-kind artistry was unveiled in the genre-busting music performance group MarchFourth.

Once the young composer was introduced to electronic music, his course in life was forever altered, and he soon discovered a new home in the international electronic music community. He began performing as Russ Liquid, and his 2013 full-length debut, Foreign Frequency, showcased a forward-thinking mentality and fearless vision.

Hand-crafting sexy sounds by blending elements of many genres together, Russ Liquid applies the colorful tones of instrumental music to the realm of the beats -- with dance floor-rocking results. This talented producer has found an entirely new palette to "paint" with, and now he seeks to bridge the gap between classical and modern music with new electronic technology and sonic possibilities. He creates a joyful sense of synergy in his high-powered live shows,

"I want to make people feel good but also give them something to reflect with," says Scott. "It's not about just making party music or music that's more introspective — it's for the full gamut of human expression, and I want it to be just as dynamic as life itself."

In support of his new album Heliotrope, Russ has been on tour with Bassnectar and Thriftworks, but Eugene's audience will have him all to themselves. Recent appearances include Shambhala Music Festival, Lightning in a Bottle, Summer Camp, and Sonic Bloom, among others. No matter the setting, a clear multi-dimensionality can always be heard in his projects.

Tickets are $15 in advance, $20 day of show. Doors open at 8:00 pm and showtime is 9:00.

NEW YEAR'S EVE WITH DOMINAT3

On Tuesday, December 31, The Listen Movement Presents the Dominat3 Album Release Party at the WOW Hall with special guests Liquid Smoke, 3111E, Cameron Daye and more. Hosted by Abaddon.

Dominat3 is one of those artists that really turns heads. At only 21 years young he has been performing for years, modeling, building his own businesses, and just recently releasing his first album The Life of A Gemini. On New Year's Eve he'll be releasing his latest product, Lifted Missions With Good Intentions.

Heavily influenced by hip-hop, Dominat3 made a difficult transition into the band scene with help from Southern Oregon band Funk Dub, an improvisational band that does every type of music from funk to dubstep.

Not only has Dominat3 been working on his own music (with 4 new albums in the works set to release this next year), touring with Funqdaqit, and creating a community for all entertainers alike, but he is also launching an apparel company mid 2020!

Dominat3 is not doing all of this work for the sole purpose of making money. This young man started as a poet. At a very young age he realized he was different. He sees a different side to the world, and only wants to have the voice and reach that comes along with fame to spread his word.

The goal of Dominat3's music is to show people someone else's perspective on the same world we all live in. Sometimes people get too lost in their ways to see the struggle of those around them. The true goal is to open people up to someone else's world with the hopes of changing their perspective for the better!

Tickets are $10 in advance, $15 day of show. Doors open at 8:00 pm and showtime is 9:00.

FREE PEOPLE

On Sunday, December 8, the WOW Hall hosts Free People from 11:00 am until 3:00 pm.

Free People is a Eugene nonprofit that was developed in response to people experiencing homelessness in our community. Free People serves folks by providing food, clothing, friendship and hope. We extend compassion and dignity to all. Everyone has a story. Homeless people often live in a story of pain, failure, abuse and loss. This can result in despair, regret and a bleak outlook on the future.

Free People is committed to being present in the homeless community. Beyond meeting basic needs, we help people by providing referrals to local services and networking with other agencies. Looking deeper at the root causes of homelessness, we offer hope for daily strength and long-term change. Free People serves the homeless to the end that the homeless too may become a free people, empowered to help others become free people.

In addition to cash, the types of donations that also help us are: clean clothing, winter coats, gloves, hats, scarves, socks, shoes, boots, toiletries, sleeping bags, blankets and camping gear.

For information or to drop off donations contact david@freepeopleeugene.com or call 541-461-1278. The WOW Hall is located at 291 W. 8th Ave.

LIVE MÁS™

On Wednesday, December 11, the Community Center for the Performing Arts and KLCC proudly welcomes the John Craigie "Keep It Warm 2019" Tour to the WOW Hall with special guest Nicki Bluhm.

John Craigie carries on the legacy of classic singer-songwriters, while blazing a trail of his own. He's the type of artist whose genuine appeal gives fans the impetus to say, "You've got to hear this performer."

Craigie has released six studio albums. He followed 2017's No Rain, No Rose, which he recorded with contributions by Gregory Alan Isakov and The Shook Twins, among others, with the stripped-down studio album Scarecrow. He also put out a live album, 2018's LIVE - Opening for Steinbeck, and he went on a stadium tour with Jack Johnson.

A favorite of audiences at the Oregon Country Fair and other large festivals, Portland's Craigie is renowned for his eloquent Americana style, engaging live shows and off-the-cuff clever observations.

"He creates something unique and bordering on magical," reports Glide Magazine. "His storytelling, which is funny enough to stand on its own as a comedy routine, leads into songs that are sometimes just as funny, and sometimes serious. But somehow, along the way, without any sense of sentimentality, he leads the audience to revelations that are inspiring and hopeful."

New Noise states:

"Craigie's earnest vocals paired with little more than an acoustic guitar is melancholy songwriting at its best... And lest you think Craigie is the patron saint of Sad Bastards everywhere, just check out his live albums; he may just be the funniest guy to ever hold a guitar."

"Craigie recently played a series of sold-out shows in his hometown where took on Abbey Road all by himself on guitar," reports Spectrum Culture. "This comes on the heels of him doing the same thing with Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band and The White Album in prior years. He called the concerts Abbey Road Lonely and did exactly what he had promised... changed these rock tunes into... serious folk."

NICKI BLUHM

After spending the last six years as lead singer and front person of Nicki Bluhm and the Gramblers, as well as recent high-profile collaborations and performances with Phil Lesh, Infamous Stringdusters and The Wood Brothers, Nicki Bluhm is stepping out on her own with her new album, To Rise You Gotta Fall. It heralds Nicki's arrival as a songwriter and vocalist of great depth and immediacy.

To Rise You Gotta Fall is a chronicle of Bluhm's state of mind following both a divorce and a separation from the only band she had ever known. Said Bluhm, "These songs are quite personal. They are the conversations I never got to have, the words I never had the chance to say, and the catharsis I wouldn't have survived without."

The songs on the album were written over a span of roughly two years, each one capturing a different phase of a dissolving marriage of a decade.

"I began writing the songs for this record when I was in a failing marriage to a man who was not only my husband but also my musical partner, mentor, and bandmate. The earliest song written for the album is 'How Do I Love You' and was essentially a plea to understand how to make the communication better in a marriage I was desperate to save. 'Battlechain Rose' is a coming to terms with the reality of deception and betrayal while 'To Rise You Gotta Fall' is a more hopeful message born out of a lot of therapy, contemplation, time, self-help and healing."

What you hear is the sense of discovery in each song.

Doors open at 7:00 pm and showtime is 8:00. Tickets are $18 in advance, $23 day of show.

$1 from each ticket sold will be donated to Food Lifeline. They believe that ending hunger in Western Washington is possible. By redirecting good food from manufacturers, farmers, grocery stores and restaurants that might otherwise go to waste, they're able to provide the equivalent of 116,000 meals every day. And, by working regionally with organizations that advocate for the needs of low-income families, they can shape policy to end hunger in the future.

DAN MAHONEY ★

By Bob Fennessy,
CCPA Membership Coordinator

On Saturday, December 14, the Community Center for the Performing Arts celebrates its 44th Anniversary at the WOW Hall Membership Party, featuring entertainment by Dan Mahoney, Gumbo Groove Duo, The Muddy Souls and Cap'n Trips Plays Bob Dylan. A buffet dinner will feature food and beverages prepared by some of Lane County's best restaurants and suppliers!

DAN MAHONEY

Dan Mahoney is a guitarist from Eugene specializing in Gypsy and Latin jazz. He is a graduate from the University of Oregon School of Jazz Studies, an accomplished classical guitarist, multi-instrumentalist and music educator. You may know him from his work with psychedelic rock and funk bands such as Basil Rathbone, Basin & Range and Goldfoot. For the past two years he has been developing a new sound and approach focused on acoustic guitar and improvisation. Aside from his solo guitar performances, you can see him playing alongside his new jazz projects, Tug and the Heart Strings and The Whiteaker

MESSAGE FROM THE CCPA BOARD OF DIRECTORS

We'd like to thank you for being a member of the CCPA! The current board has been working on supporting the staff by re-establishing a management structure, reviewing the employee handbook, and updating policies. We're working on improving safety around the Hall with the help of a recent review from the crime prevention unit of the Eugene Police Department. Building maintenance and restoration is an on-going process. If you're looking for a specific project to support at the hall, here are a few items to consider:

- Beer cooler (est. $1000.00)
- Gravel for parking lot (est. $50.00)
- Paint restrooms (est. $100.00)
- New curtain for restroom (est. $50.00)
- Office computer networking project (est. $500.00)
- 8'x8' pop up canopy to use at events, such as the Saturday Market (est. $90.00)
- Roof Replacement Fund
- New furniture for the green room
- New furniture for the beer garden
- New folding chairs
- New office chairs
- Computer monitor/ TV for digital calendar in office
- Sidewalk Replacement Fund

Remember that any donations to the CCPA are tax deductible, and qualify for the Oregon Cultural Trust tax credit! Find more info at Oregon Cultural Trust (culturaltrust.org).

THE HOLIDAYS CAN BE FUN: JULIA NUNES + ELIZABETH & THE CATAPULT

On Thursday, December 12, the Community Center for the Performing Arts and KRVM's Women in Music proudly welcome to the WOW Hall The Holidays CAN Be Fun tour with Julia Nunes, Elizabeth and the Catapult and special guest Chase Burnett.

Singer/songwriter Julia Nunes is relentlessly personal. That, plus her powerhouse cello-like voice and thought provoking lyricism is how she garnered a loyal and long standing following that has carried her from playing the ukulele on YouTube to dropping an album on Conan. From YouTube covers to sold-out house shows, Julia has captured the hearts of countless fans worldwide, who have been patiently awaiting her new release, UGHWOW.

In Julia's own words: "UGHWOW is a consistent line in my internal monologue, it's frustration or exhilaration or contentment or sorrow or surprise depending on the day. The last few years have been very UGHWOW and this record is a pretty good encapsulation."

Nunes has toured with Ben Folds, A Great Big World, The Mowgli's, Ben Kweller, performed with Weezer at Bonnaroo, and spoken at major music conferences MIDEM, SXSW, and FORM Arcosanti on her modern approach to independent artistry.

Julia's much-anticipated album UGHWOW is out now. She strums the ukulele a total of three times on this record and still evokes the extreme tenderness of her acoustic beginnings.

Elizabeth Ziman, who performs as Elizabeth and the Catapult, is a critically acclaimed singer/songwriter from New York, living and working in Brooklyn. She's toured with the likes of Sara Bareilles and Kishi Bashi; collaborated with Esperanza Spalding, Gillian Welch, Blake Mills and Ben Folds; scored, with Paul Brill, a variety of international award-winning documentaries including Trapped, a Peabody winner; and won An Independent Music Award for Songwriting, Folk category. Her songs have been featured in national television campaigns for Google, Amazon, Sky TV, and So You Think You Can Dance.

Always writing, Elizabeth has narrowed her vast collection of previously unrecorded material down to her fourth full-length studio album Keepsake, produced by Dan Molad (Lucius) and featuring collaborations with Richard Swift (The Shins).

Tickets are $12 advance, $15 day of show, and $70 for a special Soundcheck Party. Doors open at 8:00 pm and showtime is 8:30. This is a fully seated show; first come, first served.
